OBITUARY.
 ELBA, infant daughter of L. O. and SARAH J. OKAY, died November 29th, 1881, aged 6 months and 26 days.

Death came with friendly care. And took from earth the darling one, To live in heaven with angels fair. Where sin and sorrow never come.

J. H. D.
 Now winter fashions are being perpetrated upon farmers. A man with valises open, is making contracts with agents by agreeing to take next year's crops at $1 a bushel. The contracts all turn out to be notes in bank after a little. Men who do not take newspapers are generally selected by the swindlers for victims. The patient milk bucket swindler was recently operating in a county near us. Look out for these fellows.

Township and Town Indebtedness.
 The indebtedness of the townships and towns in this county is as follows:

Green township, $100 00
 Lee, 400 00
 Ohio, 883 00
 Wayne, 60 00
 Woodfield School District, 7,200 00

Total, $8,643 00
 Amount of funds on hand, 1,238 70
 Net amount of debts, $7,404 30

Barnesville is decidedly anxious for Railroad communication with Monroe county. The people up there slumbered and slept away their opportunity several years since when this region proposed a line from Woodfield, and now that we are supplied, there is no necessity or desire to subscribe merely to accommodate their business men.

Still if they can build a line into Monroe, we say, come along as soon as you please.

Mr. HUBB HILL, of this place, received an interesting letter last week from his son ALLEN, dated Gibraltar, Spain, November 10th. He is in the Marine service of the Government and is making a cruise on the U. S. Flagship Lancaster. The vessel left New York on October 10th. The distance to Gibraltar is 3,360 miles. They were not in sight of land for 19 days. There are 10,000 British soldiers stationed at Gibraltar. The vessel will probably winter at Ville Franca, France, 860 miles distant from Gibraltar.

Mr. DAVID LINTZ, of Perry township, who has served as a Commissioner of this county for six years past, retires from office this week. When we say that Mr. LINTZ was one of the best Commissioners this county ever had, we do not redact a particle upon the efficiency of others who have discharged the duties of that position. Watchful at all times, and posted in the laws regarding the duties of the office, he, with his brother officers, LAURENCE and ARFORDER, have performed the duties, in not to the satisfaction of all, strictly according to law.

QUITMAN, MISSOURI, N. V. 29, 1881.
 H. R. WEST, Esq.—Dear Sir: Please find Money Order, No. 21,400, for $3.00. You will please send The Spirit two years, from October 1st, 1881 to October 1st, 1883, and oblige.

Yours, C. ALGERO.

We judge that some communities on the Ohio side of the river have the railroad fever to a greater degree than their neighbors on the West Virginia shore. For instance, we notice in the Powhatan correspondence of the Sta. Clairville Gazette the following paragraph:

"We are having the railroad fever now quite bad; almost every one has caught it. Of the $8,000 appropriated to our township over three-fourths of it is now raised; Mr. Aaron Ramsey and Michael Dorsey subscribing $1,000 each and the right of way through their farms."

If there is much of this spirit up and down the Ohio shore it is only a question of a short time until building the river road between Bellaire and Marietta, especially if the project on this side should enter out—Projecting Intelligence, 1st inst.

"This spirit" pervades along the entire line from Bellaire to Marietta, and the road will surely be built whether "the project" on your side "should peter out," or not. General WARNER has the push, and backing from the Pennsylvania Company, aided by the people along the line, to put it through.

The latest market quotations in Wheeling are as follows:

From the Bellaire Tribune, 1st inst.

Bellaire has never been healthier than at present.

George Wier has been set to work in the plane factory at the penitentiary.

Pittsburgh papers say that over a thousand horses in that city are affected with pink-eye.

The B & S. W. railroad now have all their tracks planned in the neighborhood of the depot.

The case of the B & S. W. Ry. vs. Jno. Gallagher, Shannon Archer, Jno. Fenney and Officer Richardson was decided Tuesday by Judge Cratty. The gentlemen were charged with riot, and the "Squire" bound them over to court. It begins to look as though the city was getting into trouble.

Down in Mississippi the idea that Grant has come to the surface to be set up by the defeated Greenback-Republican Independent-Democratic coalition, the leaders of which will appeal to the National Administration for recognition, after the plan in vogue under the old regime. The Democratic ticket was elected by 55.00 majority, and no single case of fraud or bull-dozing has been proven.

A number of the people who left the neighborhood of Barnesville a year ago to find homes in Arkansas, have returned satisfied that it is best to get well enough alone.

With a pair of mules weighing only 1,900, Levi Benjamin, of Malta, pulled a load of sand from a sand pit weighing 5,640. His method is not to curse and lash the mules, but to speak to the animals kindly and encouragingly.

JOHN BILLINGS disposes of Colonel Bob Rogers in the quaint manner: "I wouldn't give five cents to hear Bob Rogers on the mistakes of Bob Rogers, but would give five hundred dollars to hear Moses on the mistakes of Bob Rogers."

THE ATHENS mob which hung Davis was about thirty strong. That Davis came to his death at the hands of parties unknown, although the Sheriff swore to the identities of several.—Marietta Register.

S. B. FRAZIER, of Ohio has been appointed interpreter to the American Legation in Japan. Mr. Frazier was raised near St. Clairsville, where his father now resides. He is a son-in-law of Minister Bingham and graduated at Franklin College, New Athens.—Enterprise.

Two vacant lots on the corner of Main and Garfield streets, owned by George Hance and Henry Aiken have been purchased by Messrs. Wigner, Beardmore and Carter, and work on the foundation for the new mill will be commenced at once.—Barnesville Enterprise 1st inst.

SINGER, the horse-thief is lodged in the McConnelville jail, where he will remain unless his friends bail him out, and let him skip the country. He is reported to have stolen five horses in as many months, but in justice to the man, it is only fair that we give his denial of the story.—County Republican.

ROBERT DARRAH, brother of clerk Darrah, after a brief illness from pneumonia, died on Friday at his residence two miles west of Bellaire, aged fifty-two years. The funeral took place on Sunday under the conduct of the Masonic fraternity. Deceased was esteemed as a good neighbor and citizen.—Belmont Chronicle, 1st inst.

MR. FRED MOHLEMAN, who has so faithfully attended to the wharf-boat for a number of years past, moved from the boat Monday into the First ward, Frank Litten, of Sandusky, will take his place on the wharf-boat. Mr. Mohleman will at once commence operations on his new flour mill and expects to have it in operation within two months.—Bellaire Tribune, 1st inst.

There was an extraordinary character in Yorkshire at the beginning of the present century named Jimmy Hirs of Rawcliffe, who was a well-known figure at Doncaster and York races.

When Jimmy had made his fortune as a jockey, he resolved to put the two-year and "set up as a well" for the remainder of his life. The first step he took to that end was to procure a handsome oaken coffin, furnished with a folding lid, which was let into the corner of his parlor like a cupboard and filled with provisions and liquor.

When Jimmy died, rich and full of years, he left directions in his will that he was to be buried in the aforesaid coffin, and that his body was to be carried to the grave by eight old maids, who were to receive half a guinea apiece for their services.

The eight old maids, however, were loath to perform a "burial" without reward, and were engaged at half a crown a head to do duty as bearers. The money proposition was headed by hags and pines and a fiddle, and the country folks flocked in by hundreds to pay their last respects to Jimmy Hirs of Rawcliffe. He died in 1828.

Mr. Ellis King, who lived in King's Bench walk some eight years ago, kept his coffin in his chamber filled with wind and spirits, to be drunk by his friends on the day of his funeral.

The coffin occupied a conspicuous place in the room and was always solemnly tossed about by the convulsions of the last moments before the guests took their leave.

A bald headed judge in Kansas daily rubbed his head with half of a fresh raw onion and in two months his hair grew out.

There is not a single Republican newspaper in Ohio to-day that dares to say a word in favor of the civil service reform for which James A. Garfield was murdered. The vitiated blood of the martyr does not seem to have fallen in fruitful soil, as far as the Republican press is concerned. There are too many parties going to sleep.

Down in Mississippi the idea that Grant has come to the surface to be set up by the defeated Greenback-Republican Independent-Democratic coalition, the leaders of which will appeal to the National Administration for recognition, after the plan in vogue under the old regime. Probably the largest case of usury that has been tried in the Courts of this county since which was tried at the term of Court just closed in the case of W. J. Rucker vs. S. W. Archer and others. In this case William J. Young filed answer and cross petition setting up two notes secured by mortgage which amounted with accrued interest to something over $2800. To this cross petition the defendant S. W. Archer answered claiming that the note was entirely paid off by usurious interest previously paid on it. The Court decided that there was about $2100 of usury in the note and allowed judgment for the balance, something over $700. In the same case Henry J. Young's claim against Mr. Archer was reduced $531 on account of usurious interest paid. The case was conducted on part of Mr. Archer by William C. Okey and Chas. T. Lewis, Wharton & Summers represented Mr. Young.—Noble's Co. Press 1st inst.

We have learned of but few crops of tobacco changing hands, but thus far are at good prices. A crop of cured Burley was bought by Pretzner of Carlisle, for $8 per hundred. It is said that higher figures than this has been offered for tip-top crops.

Twenty-eight hundred sticks of tobacco sold by Samuel King to H. W. Hordle, brought $300. Charles H. King sold his crop of air-cured tobacco to Shep Pretzner, of Carlisle, about 1,200 sticks, for eleven and three quarters cts per stick. Stephen Coningham sold his crop to W. H. Hordle, of 2,900 sticks, for $300.—Noble County Republican, 1st inst.

The Shetland Crank.
 WASHINGTON, November 29.—Another crank, named Chas. Philo, P. Phil Neilsen, from Saratoga, was arrested here to-night. He said he came to save Guiten. This makes ninety cranks arrested here since Garfield was shot.

Surgeon Lamb, who performed the autopsy on the remains of President Garfield, furnishes a statement of the case, denying that there was carelessness and that the bullet was found by accident in a wash-bowl.

Secretary Bruce, of the New York Children's Aid Society, reports that young children of six, five and even four years are still employed in cigar factories, and that legislation is needed to stop the villainy.

Marriage insurance associations, having agreed from Pennsylvania westward through Ohio and Indiana, have now gained a foothold in Iowa, and the State officers are making preparations to take legal action looking to their suppression.

Does Mining Pay?

That there are paying gold and silver mines in the United States, and that some large fortunes have been earned from them, is beyond denial, but, taking mines and miners in the aggregate, what business shows so small results in proportion to the number of persons engaged and the amount of capital invested? In three States and as many Territories the production of the precious metals is the principal subject of conversation and effort, yet the total annual yield is less than eighty million dollars. This should not discourage legitimate, intelligent mining operations, but it certainly indicates that most men lose their heads when they begin to search for gold and silver.

It is proposed to build a railroad from Cincinnati to Baltimore, 600 miles, for $18,000,000.
